At the Faculty of Education, we take a holistic approach to education

While we’re training the next generation of child and youth professionals, we’re also researching the multi-dimensional aspects of education. Through our research discoveries and delivery in child and youth spaces, we’re making a difference in the lives of children so they can learn, grow and develop to become responsible citizens.

“We believe that we have a moral imperative to nurture our children so that they may thrive. As such, with our research, teaching, and service, we seek to strengthen education and schools, which are powerful forces in counteracting the social inequities that threaten the well-being of children, families, and communities.”

Dean Vicki Schwean
Our clinic and research centres make a difference

Our clinic and research centres focus on the mental health and well-being of families and children by providing interventions, treatments and services that counteract social inequities that threaten them.

1. Child and Youth Development Clinic
2. The Mary J. Wright Research and Education Centre at Merrymount
3. Centre for School Mental Health
4. Centre for Research & Education on Violence Against Women & Children

We are growing quickly

Our world-renowned researchers and expert practitioners have enhanced our reputation as a centre of excellence for education, which has led our faculty to grow.

Teaching and scholarships attract the best talent

As part of attracting the best teacher candidates and graduate students to the Faculty of Education, we offer a number of awards and scholarships to students that can help offset tuition and related costs. These scholarships can be entrance awards, bursaries or academic achievement awards.

Be part of our success

To learn more, or to support our initiatives, please contact:

Rosie Triebner, CFRE
Director, Community Engagement & Development
519-661-2111, ext. 87643
rtriebne@uwo.ca

edu.uwo.ca